I personally have a connection with this Institute going back to the 70's when I was a student at OMC. I strongly feel (1) that every medical student should have small background knowledge of the History of Medicine in general and this stream in particular. (2) There is a crying need for the establishment of strong bonds of symbiosis between modern and traditional systems of medicine.

This Institute is special – OMC is privileged to have it on its premises.

I was thrilled when I was told that this is the only Department not only in India but in entire South East Asia. Our rich history of medicine is very well preserved in this department. One feels high and proud to be an Indian having so rich medicine history. I wish all Indians to visit this centre and come to know how rich we are in field of MEDICINE.

I wish the entire team of the department all success.

History should not be taken as a story to be forgotten. It is a store house of "Knowledge" which can be used to improve the knowledge and wisdom of people.

It is a nice department well maintained for the building aspirants of Medicine to know the roots of their Profession and not be stopped seeing the beauty of the external appearance of the tree.

I wish all success to your department in all your ventures.
